HELVEYUE WILL HOLD LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

Labor Day, Monday, September 5, will be most fittingly celebrated in the thriving town of Bellevue, by a fine exhibition to be given by the Bellevue and District Horticultural and Industrial Club.

An excellent program of sports has been arranged, the handsome sum of $1500.00 will be distributed in prizes and everything possible is being done by the progressive people of Bellevue to make the exhibition a success.

This is to be the Fourth Annual Exhibition held at Bellevue and it has grown from year to year until it is now rated among the most important and successful exhibitions in the west.

The sports program will begin with a motor parade at 10 a.m. and the day will be filled with exciting events, including football game, bicycle races, short and long distance footraces, sack race, long jump, race for members only, and many minor features.

One of the most attractive feature of the exhibition will be the Flowe and Vegetable show which will be held in the Bellevue public school house, and occupying eight rooms. A magnificent list of entries is expected for this event, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Oxley, of Calgary, have been secured as judges.

The celebration will come to a close with a grand ball at night to be held in T.O.F. hall.

It is hoped that the attendance from the Pass towns and surrounding districts will exceed that of any past year, as the people of Bellevue have spared no pains to furnish a good program and to make the day a great success.

FOREST FIRE UNDER CONTROL

The fire that has been raging in the vicinity of Crow's Nest since Saturday last, and threatening the towns, lumber camps and timber areas with devastation, is today practically under control. During Tuesday and Wednesday fire spread rapidly, fanned by a strong southwest wind. About one hundred men were placed at various points on Monday in the hope of confining the flames to a small area, but their efforts proved almost futile until the wind moderated on Wednesday, followed by showers of rain. The fire fighters are since being reinforced and today a large gang of volunteer fighters are on the grounds in the vicinity of the McLaren timber limits, under the supervision of forest ranger R. M. Brown.

The damage done can hardly be estimated, for some of the finest timber in the Rockies over an area of about eight square miles have been practically ruined. The McLaren Lumber Co. lost two of their camps with all their contents, but we understand their mill near the base of Crow's Nest mountain and their lumber yards near by have been saved.

The fire originated from some unknown cause on Saturday last at a point a short distance east of the McInnis sawmill in B. C.

POLITICAL NEWS

The protest filed by Martin Woolf, in Cardston riding against the election of Stringham, has been withdrawn.

A protest against the election by acclamation of Andrew Shandro, in Whitford riding, has been filed by M. A. Bouthillier, farmer of Soda Lake. Shandro is a Liberal.

The first civil service appointment made by the Farmer provincial government is that of John Callaghan, of Calgary, to be deputy minister of Railways and Telephones. Callaghan was formerly a civil engineer with the Pacific Great Eastern railway, a provincial line in British Columbia, but lately has been connected with the C.P.R. construction department, Calgary.

ACCUSED OF SELLING LIQUOR— ARRESTED AT POINT OF GUN

What promises to be a case of more than ordinary interest will be tried at the A.P.P. barracks at the Frank Sanatorium on Wednesday next.

On Saturday last, Donald Lewis, proprietor of the Summit Hotel at Crow's Nest, was intercepted by Sergt. Nicholson and an A.P. police constable at the railway crossing leading towards his hotel. Lewis was peacefully going towards home in a McLaughlin car. Approaching the crossing the police officers are said to have emerged from their hiding places, clad in overalls, and flashed guns in the face of Lewis, who claims that neither warrant, nor badge, nor uniform was displayed. He was taken into custody to be charged with "unlawfully selling liquor at or near Crow's Nest in the province of Alberta." He was not allowed to proceed to his home or to confer with his wife or anyone at Crow's Nest, but was taken to the Alberta side of the boundary and conveyed to the cooler at Frank, where he spent several hours in solitary confinement.

It is said that there was absolutely no liquor in the car at the time of the "hold up."

Lewis was allowed out on bail at $500, to appear before the A. P. court on Wednesday, and came up before Justice Gresham yesterday to answer the charge, pleading "not guilty."

C. F. Harris, assisted by L. H. Pittman, appeared for the accused. Sergt. Nicholson asked for an eight day adjournment, on the grounds that he had not had an opportunity to get together his several witnesses. Mr. Harris objected to an adjournment of more than a few hours being granted, claiming that the prosecution had had the same opportunity as the defence to have witnesses on hand. Mr. Harris at some length dealt with the utter injustice that was being perpetrated upon our civil citizens by police and others in the enforcement of the Alberta Liquor Act, and the apparent disregard for the public who were entitled in any civilized country to respect and protection. He questioned the right of any officer of the law holding up a "suspect" at the point of a gun, for the meagre offence of an infraction of an ill-devised liquor act, claiming it a disgrace to modern civilization and utter travesty on justice. He also questioned the jurisdiction of Magistrate Gresham or this court to try the case, on the grounds that the scene of the affair was on British Columbia territory and outside the jurisdiction of Alberta.

Great interest is centred on this case, which has been adjourned for hearing on Wednesday next.

WHY THE EDITOR LEFT TOWN

Somebody sent the editor of the Pokenston Gazette a few bottles of home brew. The same day he received for publication a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale.

Here are the results:

"Wm. Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my farm, one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves, before a background of farm implements, too numerous to mention in the presence of about seventy guests, including two milch cows, six mules and one bobbed."

Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope and the bride couple left on one good John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit the purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with one good baby buggy and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty chicken."—Ex.

Disarmament and the Individual Citizen

The outstanding question in world politics today is disarmament—the reaching of some international understanding which will put an end to the feverish race between nations to build each other in the raising and equipping of enormous armies, the construction of great navies, the inauguration of powerful aerial squadrons, and the development of chemicals and the sciences along channels of destruction, and with a cessation of such unholily and savage activities bring about an enormous lessening of the burden of taxation and the devotion of national resources to the improvement of the physical and educational well-being of the people.

Everybody is concerned in the consummation of such an international understanding, but the average man and woman nevertheless looks upon the problem of arriving at an agreement as being the sole business and responsibility of Governments and statesmen; in a word, of those for the time being in authority in their respective countries. As a result, the average man and woman takes only an academic interest in this outstanding question, and proceeds daily to think, speak and act in a manner which operates to make the realization of world disarmament extremely difficult.

With the defeat of Germany and the abdication of the Kaiser, the overthrow of Russian Czarism, the smash-up of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, and the breaking-up of the old Turkish Empire, the last remaining strongholds of old world militarism and autocracy came to an end. With the exception of Russia, which is still undergoing the birth pangs of its new regeneration, the leading nations of the world are now under a democratic form of government. That is to say, the people are themselves the rulers and the arbiters of their own national fate. They, and they alone, can definitely and permanently decide upon national policy. Governments are the creatures of the people, and are controlled, made and un-made by the votes of the people. To an ever increasing degree, too, the women have an equal voice with the men in determining the fate of Governments and the national policies of their homeland. If the people once make up their minds that there shall be disarmament, that they will no longer pour out their hard won earnings to be used to supply machines of war wherewith to destroy their fellowmen, Governments will, because they must, obey.

There is, however, it must be admitted, a fighting instinct inborn in the whole human race. It cannot be wholly eradicated, nor would it be well for the race if it were. It is the instinct which leads the race to push ever onward and overcome seemingly insurmountable obstacles. It is the fighting instinct which makes for progress. But the time is long since past when that instinct should be so perverted as to result in a striving for mastery of others through the brutal, animal method of destruction—the employment of strong arm methods against the weak.

After all, what is one of the most fruitful sources of national ill-will, leading to the making of warlike preparations by one racial group of people against another? Is it not to be found in the pin-pricking policy which so many people thoughtlessly indulge in at the expense of the people of another race, color or nationality? The people of one country make ridicule of the habits and customs of another. This is resented and a feeling of animosity and ill-will is engendered whereas a mutual recognition of each other's good qualities, which is just as easy of cultivation, would quickly develop a feeling of admiration.

The newspapers of a country quickly reflect the views and feelings of the people among whom they circulate. If there is a pin-pricking tendency among the people; it is not long before the press is engaged in it, and the sharp sayings of the press in one land are quickly seized upon by the press in another country, and soon a wordy warfare is on stirring up the passions and prejudices of one nation and people against another, and forever cultivating ill-feelings by raking up all the old quarrels and troubles of bygone ages. Visitors from a foreign country are chagrined and humiliated by careless remarks about their country, flag or people, and they return home entertaining anything but cordial feelings towards the country in which such remarks are uttered. Thus, from comparatively trivial cause, there arise those national misconceptions and distrust of other peoples which, when some difference of opinion occurs between two countries, are quickly fanned into a flame and a condition of public opinion created which makes it extremely difficult, if not impossible, for the Governments of the opposing countries to make necessary compromises in order to reach an amicable settlement. And it is against just such contingencies that armaments are maintained.

The ordinary citizen can, therefore, do much to bring about world disarmament by merely keeping a close watch upon his tongue and by steadfastly refusing to indulge in, what is after all more or less senseless and certainly utterly futile, carping at and criticism of other nations, races and people.

Good Low Cost Meals

We have decided to quit our somewhat fashionable boarding-house and rent a few housekeeping rooms. The 'What to Eat' problem bothers us. Farmer's Wife Pays Debt Of Gratitude By Relating Experience

"If I could say just what is in my heart to say about Tanlac, everybody who suffers like I did would go out and get a bottle of it," said Mrs. A. Pieper, wife of a well-known farmer living at Cottonwood, Sask.

"For years I had indigestion so bad that I couldn't eat a thing without suffering misery afterwards. Nothing agreed with me, and at times I was so bloated up with gas I would have awful smothering spells. My nerves were in a terrible state, and I was bothered a good deal with constipation. I also had violent headaches, and at nights slept so little I never felt like getting out of bed in the morning."

"Tanlac benefited me in every way and I feel like a different person now. I eat three hearty meals a day and never have a sign of indigestion. My headaches are gone and I sleep all night without waking, and when I get up in the mornings I am as bright and cheerful as I was when I was a girl. I feel I owe a deep debt of gratitude to Tanlac, and the only way I know how to repay it is to tell people about what it did for me."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Reply Is Received To Proposals Sent To Eamon de Valera

Dublin.—The Daily Eireann "Cabinet" has replied to the letter which Premier Lloyd George sent to Eamon de Valera, the Irish republican leader, on August 13. It was in this letter that the British Premier informed Mr. de Valera that there could be no compromise on the question of the right of Ireland to secede and also attempted to make clear the conditions of the proposed peace settlement.

While the text of the republican letter will not be published until an agreed joint communiqué is issued, it is understood that it makes no mention of a republic, but emphasizes the principle of independence, and expresses aversion to a resumption of warfare. Thus, it is considered, there still is a wide opening for a continuance of peace negotiations, a fact which has caused widespread satisfaction and a general feeling of optimism.

An issue of the Irish Bulletin, official Dail Eireann organ, going into a detailed discussion of what it says is the Government's proposed Ireland, declares Mr. Lloyd George's offer "does not actually propose what it professes to propose; what it does actually propose no nation could accept without dishonor."

Comparing the offer of the British Prime Minister with the form of governments granted to Canada and South Africa, the Bulletin asserts that these dominions are allowed to compose their domestic differences without interference from outside, and concludes:

"There could be free negotiations on many matters in the Premier's six conditions and amicable arrangements arrived at to the common interests of both countries. But the basis must be one of freedom."

These words are taken as indicating the intention of leaving room for detailed negotiations on almost every point of the peace proposals.

G.W.V.A. Asking Government to Stop Influx of Booklets.

Ottawa.—That large quantities of German booklets, containing insulting references to Great Britain and the other allied nations, were being rushed into Canada, and that the practice must cease immediately, were the opinions expressed by high officials of the Dominion Command of the Great War Veterans' Association. These booklets, it was alleged, were being received by persons in positions of authority and without the consent of the recipients. C. G. MacNeil, secretary of the Dominion Command, G. W. V. Airship Collapsed When Flying a Thousand Feet Over City of Hull.

Every one of the United States men on board the ill-fated craft perished, as far as could be ascertained.

Only five of the 49 who were making the trip in the dirigible prior to the vessel being turned over to the United States Navy, are known to have been saved.

The United States officers who started the trip include Commander Louis H. Masfield, Washington; Lieutenant Commander Henry W. Hoyt, Clearwater, Fla.; Lieutenant Commander Valentine N. Bieg, Brynmawr, Ia.; and Lieutenant Charles G. Little, Newburyport, Mass.

Many Lives Lost In Malabar Riot

Anxiety Is Felt For Safety of English Residents

London.—More than one thousand lives, it is feared, have been lost in the rising in the Malabar district of British India, says an Exchange Telegraph Company's despatch from Bombay. Anxiety is felt for the English women and children in the outlying districts. Several railway stations have been wrecked. Twenty men of the 1st Lancers Regiment at Tirunagudi are reported to have been cut off.

It is also reported, adds the message, that the rioting natives are working their way from the interior to Calicut on the coast.

Will Present Australian Flag to City of Amiens.
London.—Premier William Hughes, of Australia, has left London on his homeward journey. He will spend a week in France and will present an Australian flag to the city of Amiens and will also unveil a cross in honor of Australian soldiers who fell at Villers-Bretonneux in 1918.

In conversing with Reuters correspondent, the Australian premier was unable to say whether he would return to the old country before long.

Hon. Mr. Saxti, who is the Indian delegate to the Imperial Conference, left London on the same train with Mr. Hughes, going to Geneva to attend the meeting of the League of Nations.

other officers on board, except Lieut. Wann, the commander of the ZR-2.

Starting from Howden, Tuesday morning on a test flight to Pulham, the big aircraft had been aloft for 34 hours, at times in bad weather, and was returning to Pulham aerodrome at the time of the disaster, which constitutes the most terrible of its kind in peace times. The dirigible had been purchased by the United States from Great Britain.

While flying at about 1,000 feet over Hull, spectators saw the ZR-2 suddenly seemingly buckle amidships and plunge downward over the city and into the Humber River. One theory of the cause of the disaster is that while the ship's rudders were being tested, the giant craft took a sharp turn, which caused its framework to buckle, and that the explosion of a gasoline tank completed the tragedy of the air.

The actual cause, however, never may be known. A rumor has been afloat for several days that the ZR-2 was structurally weak, but this was stoutly denied by all authority.

As West Grows So Will East

Heavy Load of Taxation Carried By Small Population.

Every new settler in the Canadian West means at least one new job for someone in the Canadian East. Those who fear that an immigration campaign that would bring in settlers might add to the unemployment in Eastern Cities should bear this truth in mind. One in the West means at least one in the East.

The present immigration policy tends to ADD TO rather than subtract from the total of the unemployed in Canada. At present a small Western population is bearing the whole cost of the railways, telegraphs, Government and other public services in the West. It is admittedly a heavy load. Though these costs are reduced to a rock bottom minimum, they take from the Western farmer nevertheless, a comparatively large share of his total earnings.

Sometimes, in bad crop years, he tends to become discouraged; he may even in isolated cases—abandon his farm. And when he does, another life man must also be reported in the East.

But with more immigrants, more settlers, more farms, these overhead costs in the West are reduced. Ten people are paying the bill instead of five. A poor crop does not matter so much. Then costs grow lighter in the only way costs can be lightened. Their numbers increase. Then purchasing power expands. And there is more employment in the East.

The ban on immigration is a step towards greater unemployment—not less. This cannot be too strongly emphasized.

Premier Hughes To Visit France

Will Present Australian Flag to City of Amiens.

London.—Premier William Hughes, of Australia, has left London on his homeward journey. He will spend a week in France and will present an Australian flag to the city of Amiens and will also unveil a cross in honor of Australian soldiers who fell at Villers-Bretonneux in 1918.

Supply Of Feed Is Ample

Ottawa.—Telegraphic reports covering the livestock situation in the west have just been received by the Department of Agriculture from provincial deputy ministers and principal officials of the Agricultural Departments of three prairie provinces. All go to show that the supply of feed in the West is quite ample. The probabilities are, furthermore, that a good deal more hay will yet be made, particularly if dry weather is realized. Cutting is difficult as the sheaves are rather full.

Tribute To Late

Sir Sam Hughes

Parliamentarians Join In Sorrow Over Ex-Minister's Death

Ottawa.—Parliamentarians and public men from the Prime Minister down have joined in expressing their sorrow at the passing of Sir Sam Hughes, for years one of Canada's outstanding figures in political and military life. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, the premier, paid the following tribute:

"A truly remarkable man has passed from us in the death of Sir Sam Hughes. His mind was alert and well informed. His heart was a dynamo of energy. Fear was something he knew nothing at all about; his courage was his overpowering characteristic. It dominated his other faculties and directed his career."

"That he has done much for Canada and for the Empire he loved, no one would dare to doubt. At a critical time, his equipment of talent and experience and his extraordinary personality contributed a vast service to this country for which all are grateful, and the memory of which will live as long as our history is read."

Indian Natives Riot

Seditious Agitators Cause Open Rebellion In Malabar District.

Bombay.—A grave situation has arisen in the Malabar district, on the west coast of British India, where seditious agitators have been working on the religious fanaticism of the ignorant natives.

Their activities have resulted in serious rioting, bloodshed and destruction of property. Military forces have fired upon rioters, causing many casualties. Railway lines have been cut. Post offices have been robbed; a mob has almost supreme in several small towns. One village, surrounded by a mob, has been repeatedly making despairing calls for help. Military reinforcements have arrived at Bangalore, capital of the district of Mysore.

A proclamation has been issued by the British officer commanding troops in the Malabar area. It refers to "open rebellion" prevailing in the district on North Honal, 38 miles southeast of Calicut. Several murders have occurred, the victims including a military officer and a superintendent of police.

Greeks Are Hopeful

Steamboating On Saskatchewan River In The Late Seventies

By O-GE-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyright)

The Hudson's Bay Company had with much energy and considerable expenditure placed two steamers on Lake Winnipeg and several boats on the river above the Grand Rapids, and as this system was fairly successful for transportation of freight, it gradually replaced the Red River cart transport. Occasionally one of the river boats would reach Edmonton; twice I think in one season was the record of the Nor-West, which, by the way, was the most successful craft of them all, carrying two hundred tons on an exceedingly light draft of water.

American captains and mates from the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers were employed exclusively, but our own natives speedily took to piloting and some of them became experts. The crews were all Indians, chiefly drawn from the Pas and Grand Rapids, but a few plain Indians from above Prince Albert would occasionally engage for a trip or two.

I was receiving and shipping freight in the summer of 1877 at Grand Rapids. (Mr. Alex. Matheson, transport manager), and when loading the Nor-West on one occasion I noted the big fat Yankee mate who was standing on the deck at the gangway singing a rough, chaotic song to the Indians passing him heavily loaded; from one to two hundred pounds a man being the general load. Occasionally, to hurry matters, he would kick an Indian in the posterior while passing, and break forth into "Come along! Come along! You sons of ———. Come a running," and so on. Amongst the Indians was a wild-looking big chap who hailed from Fort Pitt, with a long pile of jet black hair hanging to his waist, wearing a broad belt of parchment buffalo hide studded with brass tacks, and a big scalping knife, the sheath of which was decorated in the same way. His whole costume consisted of a cotton shirt, a pair of cloth leggings and a breechcloth. I saw this Indian's eyes flash as the mate was doing his kicking stunt, and though he looked dangerous, so walking down the gangway I tapped Mr. Mate on the shoulder and warned him that this was not a crew of southern niggers, but red Indians, and dangerous men to monkey with. His reply was a stream of profanity. Let me attend to the freight checking and he would hustle the ——— and so on. I returned to the warehouse and kept my eye on the mate. The big Pitt Indian had a heavy load placed on his shoulders, and down the gangway he went with his shirt fluttering in the breeze. He received a tremendous kick behind, and in an instant Mr. Mate was on his back and the Indian furiously stabbing him. Several of us rushed to the rescue, and it took us all our time to hold the savage, who was in a mad fury, telling that he had never been insulted before and only death could wipe out the stain. We noted some blood on the knife and thought it was all up with the mate, but fortunately he had managed to twist his body and dodge the knife and was only bleeding from scratches. Never was a man so changed. He was too scared to go back to his duty, as he felt certain either his opponent or the Indian would eventually kill him, and we finally had to ship him into Fort Garry by the lake boat. Gradually the Yankee mates were done away with and our steady Scotchmen replaced them. These, though slower, had a sturdy and all his crew on several occasions, and he was warned to guard his speech. We had just loaded the Northeute with 160 tons of freight for Prince Albert, working day and night as usual at the depot, especially as the water was steadily falling in the Upper River, and away she went. On the evening of next day arrived a canoe with a letter from the captain stating he was tied up with a strike and all his crew on shore. The chief asked me to go up at once and try to settle the difference (as I had managed to do on other occasions), so within half an hour I was my way up the river with an Indian and bark canoe, and a heavy paddle ahead of us. The scene of the strike was at Chemahwin at the west end of Cedar Lake, and fortunately I was able to see were able to make the long traverse safely and finally reached the steamer.

Captain ——— could hardly articulate for rage and every word was an oath. The poor beggar did not seem able to help it. I noted the men all sitting and smoking on the bank and grinning at the boss' discomfiture. I coasted him into the cabin, and told him the situation was a serious one and he was liable to lose his job if he did not cool down. Well, he was helpless, so asked what I would advise and I gave him this ultimatum.

Russia May Have To Refuse Relief

Soviet Will Not Recognize Debts of Former Regime.

London.—Russia will be compelled to decline British and French famine aid, says the Pravda of Moscow, because these countries have agreed to assist only on condition that the Soviet Government recognize the debts of the former Russian regime amounting to several billion gold roubles. The Pravda, which is quoted in a Reuters despatch from Riga, declares the Soviet Government would prefer to purchase the necessary food itself at a cost of 100,000,000 roubles rather than pay even the interest on these debts amounting to about 500,000,000 roubles.

Congestion Of Fruit In Okanagan

Season Is Earlier and Prices are

Vernon, B.C.—With a lack of orders from the prairie trade, the early fruit harvest in the Okanagan has resulted in a congestion of fruit awaiting shipment. The season is at least two weeks earlier this year in the fruit belt, and the bulk of the orders are not coming yet, probably because housewives have not got down to preserving. Prices, however, are lower this season and great activity at shipping warehouses is looked for in a very short time.

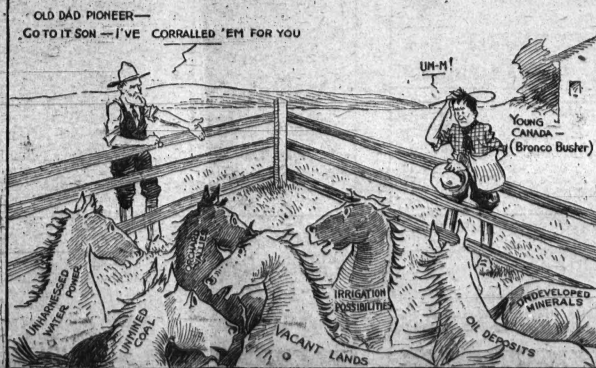

First Car of Wheat Arrives at Calgary

Shipped From Vernon and Graded No. 2 Northern

Calgary.—The first carload of this season's spring wheat has arrived in Calgary. It was shipped by J. S. Galbraith and Sons, of Vernon, B.C., and consigned to Willard Cumming and Co. It graded No. 2 Northern, and was sold at the Winnipeg cash close price of $1.7734. It is stated that there are about 100,000 bushels of wheat this year in the Vernon district. Most of this wheat will find its way to Europe by way of the Panama canal.

Winnipeg Old-Timer Dead

TIME EFFACES BITTERNESS

Forty years ago now, the great so-called infidel, Robert G. Ingersoll, was shocking the churches and religious thinkers by the boldness of his criticisms of the Christian religion.
He was looked upon as a dangerous citizen, a pagan, an atheist destroying the God of our fathers and the religion which taught the worship of Him.

He was shunned, ostracised, barred from public life on account of his outspoken views upon, and against religion. Brilliant, eloquent, of charming personality, he enjoyed wonderful law practice and the audience at his lectures, exceeded those of any church gatherings of his day. Some of his lectures are rated today as masterpieces, and standards of oratory in schools and universities, so clearly and lucidly do they set forth the tenderest sentiments of the human heart.

Recently an anniversary celebration of his birth was held in New York city and prominent speakers inside and out of the church, lawyers, university presidents, teachers and thinkers of all shades of thought, testified to the splendid mental stamina which Robert G. Ingersoll gave to the doctrines and thought of his age.

His character was upright, his nature tender and kindly, his friendships everlasting, and his mind pure, clear and lucid. All these traits were testified to by those present at this celebration.

How tenderly does our old Father,
Time, remove the needless bitterness of our lives from human sight! How the Winds of the Ages cool and pacify the burning hatreds of the human heart!

A JOKE ON THE BOSS

A short time ago a foreigner came into our office to subscribe for this publication. We took the money.
Then the foreigner wanted a receipt.
Mr. Bartlett tried in every way to talk him out of it, but the foreigner insisted on getting a receipt. After making it out, we asked him why he was so persistent in wanting a receipt. The foreigner said: "Mr. die some day and go to big gate. Saint Peter he ask if I been good foreigner. I say 'yes'. He say: Did you pay for paper? I say 'yes'. He say where is receipt? I not have it.
I have to run all over hell to find you to get a receipt."

STRAY HORSES ARE

SOLD AT BASSANO
In a two day auction at Bassano, last week, 207 head of unclaimed, es-tray horses, the remnant of a 10,000-head round-up made last spring, were sold at public auction under the provincial act relating to estrays.

These 207 head of unclaimed and estrays horses comprised every imaginable type of animal from a fairly good grade of medium work horse down to an old grey mule with ringbone, spavin, mange and all other ailments.

The highest price paid for an animal was $92 for a good horse and the lowest was 35 cents for a dilapidated, crippled old mare.

The total amount received from the sale of the 207 head was $4760.00, or an average of $22.99 per head.

GOVERNMENT TO HELP

LIVESTOCK GROWERS

A fund of $10,000,000.00 will be provided by eastern banking houses, backed by the federal government, for the relief of the western live-stock interests of Canada.

Owing to the extremely low prices of cattle and sheep, it is the intention of the government to supply necessary funds to tide stockmen over the present winter, and allow them to keep their stock and provide feed, where it is necessary.

In this way thousands of livestock growers throughout the west will be saved from utter ruin. To sell their stock at present prices in many cases would mean bankruptcy.

Three thousand people are employed in the industry and in the past year the sum of $2,248,205.00 was paid in wages.

The opening of school this week reminds many of us older ones, that we can never stop learning things, if our minds are awake. It is a good practice for every one to try to learn some new thing every day. No matter how small that new fact may seem, it adds to our mental store and if we remember it, some day it will come in good play. None of us are any higher than our memory, and if time wasted by people in the ordinary walks of life were employed in some systematic reading, we would all be better, bigger, and more successful.

By this time the Alberta farmer government has had a chance to see the inside of a provincial government machine in working order. People keep asking each other if it is not time for our dominion to deliver milk in sealed sanitary bottles, instead of the old obsolete lard pails. And, by the way, some very good cream separators must be in use, for it surely separates. Perhaps a sample or two sent up to Edmonton would have the desired effect.

Sam has got his motor car back again, after the mishap to it at Michel, and is to be seen enjoying himself. Sam is a pretty good fellow and would like to give any one a lift who attempts to walk on our beautiful roads. But the reader must understand that there is not much room left when the whole Sam family is in.

It is doubtful if the new addition to the school will be finished in time, owing to the lackadaisical methods of our school board. It is rumored the Union Hall is to be used for school purposes for the time being, through the kindness of Union officials and men. One hears of dissatisfaction all round, that the position of secretary to the school board should be held by a person who owns no property in the village and does not have to pay property taxes. The motto in Hillcrest is "Help to build the village up before accepting any office."

The price of diamonds has taken a slump recently. Now, when dining car rates do likewise, the poor can breathe easier. Rail road folders please copy.

TOO LATE FOR CENSUS

BUT A BIG BOOST
A big boost to the population of Alberta is to be experienced this week, although it comes too late to be included in the census totals. A dispatch from Montreal says:
Rev. H. Holcome, a Presbyterian minister from near Glasgow, Scotland arrived by steamer today, accompanied by Mrs. Holcome and their thirteen children, the eldest a youth of sixteen. Rev. Holcome will locate on a farm near Macleod, Alberta, and left for the west today.

POKER IS NO CRIME

An unusual case was recently decided by a British court when the judge, putting the matter up to the jury, instructed that body as to the point to be determined, which, he said was whether or not poker was an unlawful game. The jury promptly acquitted the defendants, which established poker in London, at least, as an indoor sport of legitimate character. A certain Charles Stewart was called to testify as an authority on poker. He said he had played the game for 14 years, and asserted that skill was the governing element in poker, a fact which has been learned by numerous Americans at considerable cost to themselves.

William Dalton went Mr. Stewart
"one better." Mr. Dalton testified that he had played poker for 40 years and also declared, with emphasis, that skill was the preponderating element in the game.

One of the witnesses was asked:
"Supposing you had four aces and a king in your hand, what would happen?"

"I should drop dead," he promptly replied. — Salt Lake Tribune.

Our nerves are considerably shaken these days over the possifailed, not in any way due to the good citizens of that thriving town.

didn't call at Coleman.

"None, perhaps," still smiled Mr. Smith good-humoredly.

"Why don't you let them find them? What do you expect to find?"

"Why, I—," Mr. Smith was plainly puzzled.

"Well, I can tell you it's a silly business, whatever you find. If you find your grandfather's a bigger man than you are, you'll be ashamed of it, but you ought to be ashamed of it, 'cause you aren't bigger yourself!"

On the other hand, if he is just as big as you are, you'll be ashamed of that, when you ought to be proud of it—'cause you've got him as one better. But you won't. I know your kind. I've seen you before. But can't you do any work, real work, now, father?"

"He is doing work, real work, now, father," interposed Miss Maggie quickly.

"He's having a special time, too. If you'd only help him, now, and show him those papers."

A real terror came into Mr. Smith's eyes, but Mr. Duff was already on his feet.

"Well, I shan't," he observed tartly. "I'm not a fool, if he is. I am going out to the porch where I can get some air."

"There, work as long as you like Mr. Smith. I knew you'd rather work by yourself," nodded Miss Maggie, moving the pile of papers nearer him.

"But, good heavens, how do you stand—," exploded Mr. Smith, for he realized that this time he had really said the words aloud. He blushed a painful red.

Miss Maggie, too, colored, then, abruptly, she laughed.

"After all, it doesn't matter. Why shouldn't I be frank with you? You couldn't help seeing—how things were, of course, and I forgot, for a moment, that you were a stranger. Everybody in Hillerton understands. You see, father is nervous, and not at all well. We have to humor him."

"But do you mean that you always have to tell him to do what you don't want?" in order to tell all, that is, Mr. Smith, finding himself in very deep water, blushed again painfully.

Miss Maggie met his dismayed gaze with cheerful candor.

"Tell him to do what I don't want in order to get him to do what I do want him to. Yes, oh, yes. But I don't mind; really I don't. I'm used to it now. And when you know how what does it matter? After all, where is the difference? To most of the world we say, 'Please do,' when we want a thing, whether we want it or not, to say, 'Please don't.' That's all. You see, it's really very simple—when you know how."

"Simple! Great Scott!" muttered Mr. Smith. He wanted to say more, but Miss Maggie, with a smiling nod, turned away, so he went back to his work.

Benny, wandering in from the kitchen with both hands full of cookies, plumped himself down on the cushioned window-seat, and drew a sigh of content.

"Yes, Aunt Maggie."

"Can I come to tea with you?"

"Certainly not!" The blithe voice and pleasant smile took all the sting from the prompt refusal. "What would father and mother do?"

"Oh, they wouldn't mind."

"Benny!"

"They wouldn't. Maybe pa would—a little; but Bess and Ma wouldn't. And I'd like it."

"Nonsense, Benny!" Miss Maggie crossed to a little stand and picked up a small box. "Here's a new picture puzzle. See if you can do it."

Benny shifted his new deposited stock of cookies to one hand, dropped to his knees on the floor, and began to examine the contents of the box upon the seat before him.

"They would let me eat cookies any more at home—in the kitchen, I mean. Too many crumbs."

"But you know you have to pick up your crumbs here, don't you?"

"Yes, but I don't mind—after I've had the fun of eating first. But they won't let me drop 'em to begin with, there, nor take any of the boys into the house. Honest, Aunt Maggie, there ain't anything to tell, can do, seems so, if ye live on the West Side," he persisted soberly.

Mr. Smith, copying dates at the table, was conscious of a slightly apprehensive glance in his direction from Miss Maggie's eyes, as she murmured—

"But you're forgetting your puzzle, Benny. You've put only five pieces together."

"I can't do puzzles there, either. Benny's voice was still mournful."

"All the more reason, then, why you should like to do them here. See, where does this dog's head go?"

Littlest Benny, with his finger and thumb, picked up the dog's head and began to fit it into the pattern before him.

"I used to do 'em an' leave 'em round, but ma says I can't now. Callers might come and find 'em, an' what would they say—in the West Side?"

TELLS HOW CATARRH IS DESTROYED QUICKLY

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be fixed up right at home by inhaling "Catarrhoxone." In using Catarrhoxone you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing piney vapor direct to the lungs and air passages. The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every part where catarrhal trouble exists—terms are killed, food secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and the disease ends quickly. Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhoxone is breathed—sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed. Bronchitis, irritation and weakness in the throat soon disappear. Use Catarrhoxone whether young or old. Two months treatment $1.00. Mail order, please, to The Catarrhoxone Co., Montreal.

Side! An' that's the way 't is with everything. Ma's an' Ben's is always delin' things, or not don't 'em for those callers. An' I don't see why they never come—not new ones, but the old ones, ma but they will, when they get acquainted. You haven't found where the dog's head goes yet?"

"I've tried to, but I can't get it acquainted. He'd rather have the old friends, what don't mind baked beans and a shirt and a tie, and he'll work, an' what thinks more of yer heart than they do of yer pocket."

for Aunt Maggie!" laughed Mr. Smith suddenly.

"Aunt Maggie? Oh, you don't know Aunt Maggie, yet. She's a good tryin' ter make people think things don't matter. You'll see!" crowed Benny.

A moment later he had turned down his own street, and Mr. Smith was left to go on alone.

Very often in the days that followed, Mr. Smith thought of this speech of Benny's. He had opportunity to verify it for he was waiting a good deal of Miss Maggie, and it seemed, indeed, to him that half the town was waiting for her to come. Benny, except to Benny, did he hear her say the words themselves. It was merely that to her would come men, women, and children, each with a sorry tale of discontent or disappointment. And it was always as if they left with her burden, for when they turned away, head and shoulders were erect once more, eyes were bright, and the step was alert and eager.

He used to wonder how she did it. For that matter, he wondered how she did a great many things.

Mr. Smith was, indeed, seeing a good deal of Miss Maggie these days. He told himself that it was the records that attracted him. But he did not always copy records. Sometimes he just sat in one of the comfortable chairs and watched Miss Maggie, content if she gave him a word now and then.

He liked the way she carried her head, and the way her hair waved away from her shapely forehead. He liked the quiet strength of the way her capable hands lay motionless in her lap when their services were not required. He liked to watch for the twinkle in her eye, and for the dimple in her cheek that told a smile was coming. He liked to hear her talk to Benny. He even liked to hear her talk to her father—when he could control his temper sufficiently. Best of all he liked his own comfortable feeling of being quiet at home, and at peace with all the world—the feeling that always came to him now whenever he entered the house, in spite of the fact that the welcome accorded him by Mr. Duff was hardly more friendly than that accorded to the first man who came in.

Turning The Corner

Indications Point to Return of Normal Business Conditions

"Orders are coming in steadily and in increasing numbers," says A. E. Staley, of Decatur.

"We have unquestionably passed the worst," said E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, in commenting on the poor showing made by the last quarter's report of the profits of that business.

Textile mills are beginning to run steadily in the south and east. One great cotton mill in Massachusetts put its spring fabric samples on view one day last week, and within three days the output of the mill for the entire season was taken by the wholesalers.

The signs are now really right. Foolish optimism is one of the most foolish of all business mistakes. The man who fools himself is the most badly fooled man in the list. But with a stabilization of values which has come within the last few weeks, there has come also the sounder business foundations, the higher productivity of labor, the more careful and efficient management of affairs, so that the forward step which is taken now will be held. Gains now made are real, not imaginary or visionary, and they will be made greater as conditions continue to improve. Indications are multiplying that while the country is far from back to the normal business prosperity, the upturn is gradually being made.—The Decatur Review.

Western Butter Scores High

Edmonton Secured Highest in Dominion for July Sample.

The quality of butter submitted to date by the provincial creameries in the Dominion educational scoring contest is better than in any previous year, according to the Dominion Dairy Commissioner, J. A. Rudlick.

Edmonton Dairy secured the highest score of any sample since the competition commenced in 1919, with 98 points for their July sample. The highest scoring sample for June was supplied by the Central Creamery, Calgary, with 97.5 points, and for May by the Shoal Lake Creamery, of Manitoba, with 97 points.

Beginning of Beekeeping

A Few Colonies of Bees Should Be Kept On Every Farm

The excellent yield of honey that bee-keepers in some quarters have enjoyed this season will no doubt have the effect of stimulating interest in the business of keeping bees. It is well kept favourably located apiaries this year yields of upwards of 100 pounds per colony of excellent honey have been extracted. All years have not been as good as this for honey production, but there have been few failures years. In any case bees are not expensive to keep, and their feeding is usually taken care of without direct outlay. Unless one has an aversion to keeping bees, there is very little reason why at least a few colonies could not be kept on every farm. Honey has a claim to be regularly used in every home because of the delicacy of its flavour and for its food value. There are an increasing number of people who make bee-keeping their principal business. The amount of extracted honey that may be obtained from a well-managed colony of bees varies with years and localities. From 30 to 120 pounds per colony is set down by the Dominion Apiarist in Bulletin No. 26, as the yield for an average year.

While the spring is the best time of the year to begin bee-keeping, it is not necessary to wait until that season to learn something of the business, indeed one cannot become too well versed in the handling of one's new business before, undertaking it. Occasion should be taken to visit successful bee-keepers to see how the hive is constructed and the bees handled; also to learn by question and answer many things about bees and their management, which are not nearly so easily acquired by the perusal of books. It is a mistake to start on a large scale. One or two colonies are enough to begin with. When experience has been gained the number may be increased. Nothing is more discouraging to the beginner after he has gone extensively into bee-keeping than to lose most of the bees through bad wintering or some other cause, all from the want of a little experience. It is a good plan to make the bees pay their way after the first outlay. If one desires to go into bee-keeping and the opportunity of securing a few colonies this autumn presents itself, it may be good business to take advantage of it. The question of wintering then becomes an immediate problem, and it is best as a rule to follow instructions obtained from successful bee-keepers in the neighborhood. Bees do not become torpid in winter like other insects, but they generate heat and consume their stores in so doing. Successful wintering depends principally upon the number of bees in the cluster, the youth of the bees, sufficient and wholesome stores, and protection from cold. When good protection is provided the bees do not need to produce so much heat; consequently, less food is consumed and there is less drain upon the vitality of the bees. To winter satisfactorily, each colony requires to have a good fertile queen and enough bees to crowd between seven to ten combs. Weak colonies may have to be united. To get plenty of bees reared in September in regions where but little honey is gathered during those months, the queen should be one that has been reared during the summer, that is, to say, the mature bee in the cluster. A healthy colony should have 30 to 45 pounds of wholesome sealed stores, depending on the intensity of the cold and condition of the storage quarters. Dealers in Edmonton Receive Order For 1,000,000 Pounds

Butter from the Edmonton district is in demand, and one of the largest orders ever recorded there was placed recently when Paul de Wolff, of Saris, B.C., asked local dealers to supply him with 1,000,000 pounds for the New York market. A million pounds order is a big one to fill, but agents' half a dozen or more other central Alberta points are also being asked to assist in filling the order.

When you are troubled with diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera, cholera morbus, summer complaint, bloody fluxes, or any other ailment of the bowels, be sure and obtain a bottle of "Dr. Fowler's" and see how quickly it gives you relief. This wonderful remedy has been on the market for the past 76 years and we wish to warn you against accepting a substitute which may be dangerous to your health.

I was advised to take Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I lost no time in doing so. I most hesitate in recommending it most highly, for when I had not yet taken half the bottle I was relieved. I must say that if "Dr. Fowler's" is given a fair trial it will show its good qualities."

Live Stock Industry

Want Action Taken to Secure Market in U.S.

C. W. Peterson, western editor and rancher, suggests the formation of a Canadian pool consisting of government representatives, bankers, breeders, and capitalists to form an effective line of defence in view of the present condition of the live stock industry in Western Canada. He urged that immediate diplomatic negotiations be opened with the United States to procure for Canada free entry for animals and animal products, pleading that even an unlimited overseas market could not be compared with free access to the Chicago market. He believed that if the situation were placed before the Canadian public and they were appealed to there would be no trouble in subscribing $100,000,000 for the pool.

City Girl Makes a Success of Farming in Western Canada.

Another name added to the list of women who are successfully operating farms in Western Canada is that of May V. Hazlett, an English girl who for four years has lived alone on a homestead in the Torchwood Hills and made it pay. Her brother, who homesteaded the land, was killed in the Canadian forces at Vimy Ridge, and Miss Hazlett, who was working as a stenographer, and tired of the eternal pounding, determined to go contrary to the advice to sell the farm and thought she had never lived in the country, decided to operate it herself. Success has attended her efforts and she now owns several head of horses, a fine bunch of cattle, and has more than one hundred acres under cultivation. She is again registering the order of things as having built a Western home she is returning to England to marry her fiancé and bring him out to the Saskatchewan farm. She is an ardent advocate of homesteads for women.

Where Winbreaks Are Necessary

Gardens on Prairies Must Be Protected by Hedges

That the time will come when the prairies will be hedged and dotted with gardens and blooming flowers of ripening fruits and of delicious vegetables, was the prediction made recently by W. Macoun, horticulturist of the Dominion Experimental Farms, who has almost completed a tour of inspection of the Dominion's experimental farms. Mr. Macoun is a son of Professor John Macoun, of Ottawa, the famous naturalist and explorer, who died last year in his ninetieth year.

Mr. Macoun said that he had seen on the prairie some of the finest gardens that could possibly be seen anywhere in Canada. But before the prairies can have gardens they must have hedges for windbreaks, Mr. Macoun added. "Set your hedges, and you may look for your garden," he said. "The hedges are coming. The Dominion experimental farms have more, far more, than paid for themselves by the wide distribution which has been given to the caragana hedge, which the Department at Ottawa introduced from Russia. It is indispensable to the small garden on the prairies. I attribute a great deal of the splendid results achieved in western gardening to the influence exerted by the experimental stations." Mr. Macoun declared.

Mr. Macoun said the present aim of the Department of Agriculture is to get earlier varieties of fruits and vegetables, and referred more particularly to the special need for earlier varieties of all kinds on the windswept prairies.

Postage Meter Machine

Does Away With Necessity of Sticking on Stamps

New York has been introduced to the postage meter machine—a machine which makes every man his own stamp printer and does away with the necessity of sticking them on.

The National City Bank has the first one exhibited there. The machine, recently approved by the post office department, operates on a principle similar to that of the government's automatic cancelling machines. As the letters are run through it, a separate sheet of the size of a stamp is printed, in which appear the words: "U. S. Postage—Paid 2 Cents."

The machine is equipped with a register which can be set only by post office authorities. When the register shows the user has stamped as many letters as he paid for, the machine stops and has to be taken to the post office to be reset.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK After Long Suffering Mrs. Peasey Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered with irregular menstruation, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains, so I wrote to me thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of medicines and had been treated by physicians but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends and if these facts will help some poor woman use them as you please."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 387 King St., Toronto, Ontario.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Peasey did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health.

The total distance of the oil staking along the Mackenzie River in this territory is now approximately 150 miles though not continued over this entire length.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From The Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood.

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Man's Amazing Endurance

Capacity Of The Human Animal to Resist Pain and Fatigue

If there is one thing which has been made clear to us in the last six years it is that communities and individuals have a capacity for endurance far exceeding all rational estimates in the past years, says the Westminster Gazette. The capacity for endurance for years on a diet which by all scientific tests is insufficient to support life for more than a few months; the hunger striker who ought to have died in three weeks lives on for six or seven; the nation which is manifestly bankrupt carries on with all the appearance of solvency and even prosperity for an apparently unlimited time; the strike which ought to have ended in complete exhaustion at the end of a month continues unabated after two months; and the community which ought to have been strangled by its own sins is alive and cheerful and comparatively indifferent.

By Marie Belmont.

The popularity of the cape is not likely to pass with the summer months. Its pleasing qualities are so much appreciated that there will be many interpretations of it for fall wear. This delightful coat, cut from a heavy silk crepe in a rich shade of brown, is designed with a spreading cape. It is lined with gold, which is revealed when the cape is flung backwards. The sleeves are cut wide at the wrist and are trimmed with heavy fur. This is also used for the crush collar that is set rather high about the neck. Russians Live In Folds

Family of Five Occupy Hut Four by Ten Feet.

In a village in Russia recently a family of five was found living in a hut measuring forty by ten feet. The hut was made out of an old farm wagon. All five slept on a bed of straw covered by a sheet and some rags. A stove was the only household article owned by the family, which paid a farmer a weekly rental equal to about 40 cents in Canadian money. An American who recently returned from Russia declared that while this case indicated the severity of the housing situation over there, it was by no means the worst he had seen. Many families are entirely without shelter.

Of all the sixty provincial ridings in Alberta, Warner is the only riding laid out on straight, uniform geographical lines, it being 36 by 48 miles in extent without a break on its four sides. All the other ridings follow streams, mountain chains, or some other natural boundary, and are of all shapes imaginable, according to the whim of those who set boundaries within which we shall vote.

It is claimed that the present unemployment situation throughout the United States represents a direct loss in wages of $27,500,000 a day.

We would call attention to the fact that it is contrary to law for boys under 16 or girls under 18 years of age to drive automobiles, and it makes no difference if the parent or other grown-up person is in the car at the time. This law was enacted for public safety and should be strictly observed.

Owing to the large number of fisherman and the restricted waters this year, no non-resident trout have about all disappeared from the lower reaches of the Old Man River. The graying, however, are running strong.

A remarkably clever stunt was pulled off by the provincial police at Bellevue a few days ago, when the grocery wagon of Kerr Bros.

was searched and some bottles of sauce and vinegar, admitted and guaranteed by the government, of this fair dominion as its food for human animals, were subjected to examination. Meanwhile whiskey and other intoxicants were being ordered, delivered, served, consumed, paid for, etc., contrary to the laws of the land right in Bellevue and practically under the nose of the authorities that be. Since then we noticed some of these syrups, sauces and vinegars in Messrs Kerr's window under the prominent sign: "These stood the test!" Now, in justice to Kerr Bros., who were victims of suspicion in this case, we wish to point out that the attorney-general's department has not money enough at its disposal to pay Messrs. Kerr to tamper with liquor in any way, shape or form, or to be connected with any unlawful act, then why such a gross insult upon respectable, law-abiding citizens.

Within ten days after Caruso's death a publisher of cheap sheet music in New York City had placed a so-called "memorial" song on the market, entitled "They Needed a Song Bird in Heaven, so God Took Caruso Away." It is said to be an atrocious production, from a musical standpoint, but is meeting with success, from a financial standpoint.

The difference between Peter Dawson and a young woman is, Peter likes to boast of being twenty years or over, while the young woman wishes to be considered under twenty years.

It Pays To Learn

In a good natured way almost every one of us has taken a fling at the college graduate. In this joking way we picture him quite dazed and befuddled when after years of studying theory and acquiring book learning he is confronted with a job which calls for practical application of his theoretical learning.

In the past there was no doubt some justification for this attitude. The college as long as it retained its ancient traditions of some education removed from real life; so that when the student left the sheltered halls of learning, he was surprised to find that there were in the outside world many things which he could not understand and do. His learning had not been a real preparation for the life which confronted him when he said good-bye to his professors.

More recent developments within the college, however, have tended to decrease the perplexed state of mind which we have been accustomed to ascribe to the college graduate. What was once a serious charge against him has lost a good deal of its seriousness, and remains now only material for the comic papers and for good-natured jesting on the part of speakers and writers who love humor more than truth.

The college man has eloquent figures to support his contention that he can hold his own in the outside world. No less an authority than the United States Bureau of Education has recently issued a bulletin entitled, "The Money Value of Education," in which it is to be found some startling information. "With no schooling at all," says the Bulletin, only 31 persons out of 5,000,000 attained distinction; with elementary schooling 808 out of 3,000,000 achieved a like level; with a high school education 1,545 emerged out of a group of 2,000,000; and with college education 5,768 arrived at this point out of a group of a million.

Putting a thing in round numbers, it appears that the college graduate's chance of making good is ten times better than that of the high school graduate; it is nearly 22 times better than that of the elementary school graduate; and 937 times better than that of the individual without schooling altogether. In view of these facts it would seem as if education, ought to be one of the easiest things on the market to sell. It ought to sell itself.

CANNOT CHANGE ASSESSMENT

At the request of a few ratepayers, the secretary wrote the department of municipal affairs a couple of weeks ago, asking as to whether anything could be done in the way of altering assessment, after the court of revision had completed their work. The following reply has been received and supports views advanced by members of the town council at their last regular meeting when approached by a committee of ratepayers:

Edmonton, August 29th 1921.

Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 25th inst., regarding 1921 assessment of land situated in the Town of Blairmore.

If your Court of Revision has been held in accordance with the Notices and all appeals from that Court have been dealt with, your assessment is in order and the matter cannot be reopened. I would further call your attention to Section (287) of the Town Act, which provides for the correction of the Rolls, but only in particular instances. This section would not permit of reopening the assessment already dealt with by appeals, but is to enable the Town to add on the Assessment Roll any property liable for taxation which has not been assessed, and to otherwise provide for omissions.

Your obedient servant,
J. H. LAMB,
Deputy Minister.
